AI Enable Car Parking Using OpenCV

Our AI-Enabled Car Parking Management System leverages the power of computer vision through OpenCV to revolutionize traditional parking systems. By employing advanced image processing techniques, the system provides real-time monitoring and intelligent management of parking spaces in busy urban areas, commercial complexes, and public facilities.

Spotify clone using Front-end

Our Spotify Clone Project is a web application that replicates the user interface and functionality of the popular music streaming service, Spotify. Developed using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, this project showcases the integration of frontend technologies to create a responsive and interactive music platform.
